The International Institute of Modern Butlers

The International Institute of Modern Butlers was established in the United States in 2004 by two British and American butlers working as consultants and trainers.

They joined forces with others in the profession with the purpose of establishing standards and then working to bring them about not just in the butler profession, but ultimately in all service industries.

The Institute grew quickly into a worldwide presence by establishing representatives, offices, and affiliations that provide consulting and training (and some placement) in private estates, the hospitality industry. The Spanish-Language Office was established in 2006 and expanded into the French Market in 2010.

The Institute pioneered the concept of the Spa Butler, and also provided the hospitality industry with the rating system for hotel butler service, a valuable resource for guests and a benchmark for the profession and hotels seeking to improve their bottom line through wowed guests. The Institute has been recognized in the hospitality industry through its championing of service standards, its definitive text on the profession, Hotel Butlers, The Great Service Differentiators, and its frequent articles for the trade.

Sample three-week agenda

The trainer combines a mystery guest visit, at no fee, and combined with feedback from hotel management, customizes the training for maximum impact, so every hotel's training is unique. The training program below is a fairly typical three-week program

1. Email and, if needed, telephone consultation and planning before arrival (no fee)

2. Half a day to meet with the executives and inspect the property and layout for the butler service villas and the butler spaces and equipment; and to provide input, and a program if needed, on any elements that may be missing (no fee). The trainer customarily works closely with the supervisor/management on a daily basis to stay on target and bring about a successful conclusion

Testimonials

“ This is the best training I have ever taken: I can apply the knowledge received from this training not only to work but also to my personal life. I had many missing points in my previous work as butler, now I have completed those missing pieces. The trainers are unbelievable, they gave us the best training!

“ I want to express my sincere gratitude and appreciation for all the training and mentoring that I have received over the past three weeks, which has really transformed my life professionally and personally, sending my life and career path upward.

“ I loved Mr. Vargas' attitude and his way of conveying the subjects—he was ever so kind and was always ready to repeat a subject in different ways to clear up any doubts.

“ In spite of being in the hospitality industry for more than twenty years, I have learnt many new things, from serving with class and refinement to dealing with difficult situations. I would have loved a longer training. Really interesting.

“ Mr. Vargas is a great speaker and knows how to engage us and keep us interested at all times. Importantly, he is a master of all the subjects he talked about in the training.

“ The whole training was fantastic!

“ We learned many details through practice and drills. Our thoughts and views have changed.

Amer A. Vargas

PRESIDENT

Graduated with a Tourism Degree specializing in hotel management from CETT (Center for Tourism Studies) in Barcelona and spent the following decade in the service industry. Beginning as a waiter and then supervisor in high-end restaurants, he was then made responsible for raising service standards through staff training programs. After receiving training as a butler, he worked as a butler and valet in private service as well as hotels in England and Europe.

During this time, he translated the best-selling industry texts Butlers & Household Managers, 21st Century Professionals and Hotel Butlers, The Great Service Differentiators into Spanish and continues to create butler training materials in the Spanish language. At the same time, he works as a temporary butler for travellers that visit Spain and Europe and is a regular contributor to the IIMB Journal.

As President, Mr. Vargas is responsible for making the technology of butling available in private residences, businesses and hotels & resorts around the world as well as providing consultation and placement.

Prof. Steven Ferry

FOUNDER & CHAIRMAN

Has worked in the hospitality industry, in private service and in businesses in England during the 1980s before training as a butler in England and then working as one. He established the International Guild of Traditional Butlers and wrote the basic manual on how to butler in the early 1990s. By the mid-1990s, he had left private service to focus on his writing.

Drawing on his early years as an educator in England, he published three textbooks for the profession: The British Butlers Bible, Butlers and Household Managers, 21st Century Professionals and Hotel Butlers, the Great Service Differentiators and began to train butlers in private households. He also consulted employers about their domestic needs and occasionally assisted with personnel procurement when requested.

He subsequently broadened his campaign to improve on service standards using the butler model, by providing training and consulting services to the hospitality industry. He co-founded the Institute and currently trains butlers and other household and hospitality employees on the butler model of service in private households and estates, hotels, resorts, spas and private villas.

He is on the Editorial Board of the Hotel Executive magazine, writes for a variety of industry trade magazines and newsletters and lectures at universities such as Harvard and Moscow

. In 2003, he introduced the spa butler as a resource for hotels and resorts with spas to assist them in bringing about the ultimate spa experience for guests, and created the Hotel Butler Rating System in 2006.
